On Monday morning the people were startled by an unnouncement in the morning papers of the tragic death of George Mitsch, proprietor of the Springfield House, and perhaps one of the best known men in our city, and throughout the day in gatherings where politics had been the absorbing topic for days past, all were engaged in discussing the Mitsch suicide and the causes of it. As to what drove George Mitsch to take his own life, there are many theories. Some attribute it to hard drinking, while others to the rumerous losses he has suffered in years past, and the preying on his mind of the silling of a man while in a fit of anger, for which, on the charge of manistingher he served a term in the Penitentiary. It is said that this was constantly on his mind. It seems that on Sunday Mrs. Mitsch had been to visit a sick friend near Lagonda, to which visit Mitsch objected, and who, upon her return home, upbraided her, when they both had words, Mitsch 'eaving the room; and after being absent for some moments returned, having a revolver in his band, which be placed to his side and fired, the ball passing through his heart, killing him instantly. Mitsch was an old solder, and received several wounds, from which for years past he had suffered considerably. The Coroner at the present writing had returned no verdict.

Monday morning, on Honey Cut alley, a des perate fight took place between two negroes named Philip Venerable and Will Chambers, about somewoman. During the struggle Vener-able seized an ax and dealt Chambers a fearful blow on the back of the head, crushing the skull from the effects of which the man can not survive from the effects of which the man can not survive, and perhaps before the readers of this article see it he will be a corpse. The place in which this tragedy occurred is a small dilapidated brick house situated on Honey Cut alley about four doors from Spring street. It is a bagnio of the lowest grade and kept by a woman named Dollie Nelson. During the past six years several have been killed in this same house. One day about two years ago a black man and white woman were found dead in bed, the cause of which was never learned. A Daugerous Torpor.

Torpor or inactivity of the kidneys is se iously dangerous to those organs, since it is the precedent of diseases which destroy heir substance and endanger life. Thi sluggishness may be overcome by stimulatng them, not excessively, but moderately, in effect produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a general invigorant and alterative, possessing diuretic properties of no common order. The impetus which this admirable nedicine gives to their evacuative function counteracts any tendency to congestion which may arise in their tissues. Both they and their associate organ, the bladder, are nvigorated as well as gently stimulated by the Bitters, which exerts a kindred influence upon the stomach, liver and bowels. and by strengthening the system, enables it o withstand the malarial epidemics, to which when exposed it might otherwise

The New Stock Speculations. The new combination method of operatng in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, New York, have inaugurated, is attracting unusual attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. B. F. Comstock, of Providence, invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and s attracting unusual attention in financial mighty whole, thus giving to each share-holder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every thirty days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & urday. Co.'s combinations with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent, on the stock, and so on as the market varies. H. Baldwin, of Monroe City, Indiana, writes under date of December 3d, 1877, that his wife used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with wonderful results. It effected her entire cure, after several physicians had failed. The many similar letters positively affirming that the Favorite Prescription had cured the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, induced Dr. Pierce to sell it under a guarantee. Ladies need no longer submit to useless and painful local treatment, as the Favorite Prescription is a safe, sure, and speedy cure, Hundreds who had been been bed-ridden for years have been restored to perfect health by its use.
